We use a pan dedicated to no-gluten-containing ingredients and a Coeliac approved batter, but we do cook in a kitchen that contains gluten products.

We ask that our gluten intolerant customers understand that it takes longer to cook in our only dedicated pan as chips and fish are cooked at different temperatures. This takes more time and gives the staff additional complications as the gluten free batter has different holding properties. We hope that you appreciate the considerable extra effort our staff go to in order to offer this complicated service. Due to overwhelming increase in business, we are unable to offer this option on bank holidays. Prices may change without notice.

if it's not on this menu – it may contain gluten
